Living on the Coast

A late number of the Bulletin sums up the prices of living in San Francisco as compared with New York, showing the difference of certain staple articles, and concludes as follows:

Of course this is the time to put in a word about our oysters. What the next Legislature take the oyster question in hand? It is a legitimately a lobby matter. At this time nothing can be done without oysters. The whole Appraiser's establishment is not worth as much toward getting man bisect out of a Legislature as a fine oyster bed. Then oysters are such a comfort to your lone bachelor. When boarding house cookery drives him to the verge of madness, he dives into an oyster cellar and from the half shell feeds until reason is restored. A man in trouble, a man in debt, a man despondent or full of spirits needs and takes his oysters. They are the ballast of all the rest he eats, the complement of his heavier meals, the stay and support of him who has no other meals. Is it not possible thing to plant our bays with oysters. Even with a Pacific Railroad San Francisco will lack one of New York's chief delights while she lacks the cultivated oyster.

Concerning butter the less said by Californians the better. It is retailed here at 60 to 75 cents a pound. Pay the highest price and keep the article a week and it is excellent for wagon grease. It is said that there is one woman in Napa county, and we have heard that there is one in Petaluma who knows how to make good butter. If this be true we trust that their butteries will be Meccas for the other butter makers in California, for more wretched stuff than we are required to pay 75 cents for never in any other land was denominated butter. In New York they get an excellent Orange county butter for 25 to 58 cents. Eggs there sell at 14 to 25 cents a dozen. Here they command from 50 80 cents a dozen—according to how many fresh ones they let us have in the dozen. Wanted—some discovery that will make eggs plentier and cheap, poultry plentier and somewhat cheaper, and butter tolerably good at any price.

A good share of the above remarks are applicable to this market, especially relative to butter and eggs. There is no excuse for the miserable butter we get in market nor for the scarcity frequently found of all such articles of produce. Oregon can produce the best of every thing necessary for home consumption, besides many luxuries, if her farmers would only make the attempt. We know of too many farmers in our country who are continually complaining of hard times and finding fault with the country and every thing around when if they would but go to work and improve even but an acre or two of garden ground, or procure half a dozen hens to commence with, would soon realize enough therefrom to keep themselves and families in good style, with all the comforts and pleasures of home and their attendant results—contentment and happiness.

Mail Contracts.—Dates from Washington of Nov 15th, inform us that the Post office Department has awarded contracts for carrying the following named mails east of the Cascade mountains. First—From Walla Walla to Colville; second—from Walla Walla to Bitter Root Valley, and third, from Walla Walla via Lewiston to Pierce City, Florence and Elk City. All of these routes have been let to Louis A. Muller, of Walla Walla, W T, for the sum of $74,000, annually. We are not advised as to the manner of service or the number of trips to be performed, but presume each one to be weekly mails. The routes pass through rich and extensive gold field, and it is believed that thirty or forty thousand miners will be supplied by these contracts during the next season.

Hung.—The Eugene City Review, in noticing the account of the hanging of the three highwaymen at Lewiston, says:

Scott formerly resided in Linn county, and English and Peoples in Benton. English was a young man with a warm, generous heart, and of industrious habits, although somewhat wild and dissipated, was generally considered a good citizen. He married into a respectable family in Benton county, where he leaves a wife and one child. He followed packing to and from the mining towns up north, where he was well liked, and nothing short of evil associates, it seems could have induced him to leave his honest vocation and participate in the awful crime that cost him his life. Nelson Scott married into a good family in Linn county several years ago, but soon gained the character of being a petty thief—which he has well sustained from that time to the present. California being the principal field of his operations. Peoples was at one time engaged in carrying the U. S. mails between Corvallis and Salem, and then considered an honest citizen. All three were young men, none being over twenty-eight.

Nothing Later.—The Pacific brought no later news from the East than had been previously received overland. We have not received any dispatches since Friday evening last. Our latest dates at that time were up to the 15th inst. There is probably an other breakage in the telegraph lines somewhere between California and the Missouri river.

New York, Nov 15.—The Herald's Newbern (N C) letter of the 9th says: A reconnoissance was made within five miles of Tarboro. The rebels were found with a large force there. It was deemed impolitic to attack them. The salt works near Wilmington have been fired and destroyed by the gunboat Ellis without loss on our side.

U S Sanitary Commission,
Nov [illegible] 18[illegible]

My Dear Sir: The [illegible] patriotic labors has come into [illegible] been acknowledged [illegible] urer. The sum of $2875 00 (twenty eight hundred and seventy five dollars) was realized by the sale of your gold at San Francisco, and transmitted in a draft by your correspondent Gen L H Allen to whom our Treasurer immediately sent a receipt.

Your success in collecting money for us is truly wonderful and receives our most grateful appreciation. In regard to the liberal donation of $1,000 sent by the Grand Lodge of Free and accepted Masons of Oregon, we gratefully honor the trust and confidence reposed in us by that honorable body.

I wish we could send you the [illegible] you suggest as being needed to animate the drooping confidence of Oregon. It will come in time if not in due time. Our people have no idea of giving up. They are just getting ready to go in all over and when we make war a business we shall do it as well as we do other business. It has been too much a pastime (except for our poor sick and wounded men) up to this time. But the Government seems now getting in earnest.

For your noble expectation of sending us still more money accept in advance our thanks, for what you propose, I am sure you will do. California has sent us nearly $[illegible] 000! Was such beneficence ever equalled?

With the most cordial regards and the hope that we shall meet face to face some day, when peace returns, I am yours most truly,

H W BELLOWS, P[illegible]

Mr A Holbrook.

The Army Signal Corps

A correspondent of the Philadelphia Inquirer gives the following respecting this very important branch of the army:

The code of signals now in use was invented by Major Myer, of the United States army, and first used in New Mexico during the war with the Indians. The corps now number upwards of 300 officers and 900 men selected from different regiments of the volunteer service. Each officer represents a regiment in the service and like engineers form a part of the army staff corps. They are subject to be ordered to any part of the country, and they frequently occupy the most exposed positions. The colors of the flags used are modified by the nature of the background. White with a black centre and red with a white centre are used against a dark background, and black with a white centre against a clear sky. The signals are made by rapid movements of the flags in different directions. They can be understood at a distance varying from 5 to 25 miles according to the atmosphere. At night a flying torch is substituted for the flag, and a footlight is placed at the feet of the signal man.

The officers are furnished with powerful telescopes and marine glasses, the excellence of which is celebrated through the army. The corps being a mounted one, stations are established and changed with great rapidity.—There are stations of observation, intermediate stations and headquarter stations. At the first named the movements of the enemy are watched and reported. At the second messages impossible to be directly signalled to a given point are transmitted through their destination. For example a general in a valley wishing to send orders to a distant point in the same valley sends first to an intermediate station. At the third orders and intelligence are transmitted to and from the respective generals.

The distance between the stations is not often more than six miles, though in some instances it is much greater. Each station has two mounted flagmen, who have under his directions, the signals. The station on Elk Mountain, since the passage of the enemy over South Mountain has been one of the most important. As an illustration of the necessity of the signal corps to the army but one instance need be mentioned. When our troops were assailed at Brick House Point by largely superior forces during the Peninsula campaign, a message by signals brought four gunboats lying several miles from the shore to their assistance. The [illegible] from the heavy navy ordnance would [illegible] most deadly upon the rebel and checked their [illegible].

As a reward for distinguished signal service in the field, battle flags are awarded to officers. This flag is of white silk and has in its centre a red star on which is inscribed the name of the action. But few presentations have been made and the receipt of the flag is considered one of the highest honors that can be had in the corps.

Additional Eastern News

Warrenton, Va, Nov 14th.—The rebel [illegible] mustering, or [illegible] Jefferson [illegible] General Pleasanton [illegible] Jefferson.

Kansas City, Mo, Nov 14.—The Santa Fe [illegible] has arrived. Gen Carleton has ordered the establishment of a Military Post, to be garrisoned by two companies of cavalry and one of infantry on the Pecos river [illegible] This locality is [illegible] of the finest agricultural districts in the Territory, and if protected against the Indians, will soon become thickly populated. The new post is to be called Fort Sumner.

[illegible] Nov 14.—Five regiments of rebel cavalry advanced last evening from Lumkin's Mills within two miles of Holly Springs. Skirmishing [illegible] for some time. [illegible] commissioned officers were captured.

[illegible] General Villipigue died at Port Hudson a few days ago, of pneumonia.

[illegible] Nov 15.—Letters [illegible] Washington state says [illegible] from Warrenton [illegible] Burnside assumed command [illegible] tion probably spent here, effecting army [illegible] to worst the enemy [illegible] takes place.

Harper's Ferry, Nov 14.—A contraband [illegible] his way here. He states that he overheard officers—high in the rebel army [illegible] all remaining in the Valley [illegible] [illegible] ating concerning the [illegible] operations. According to this negro's statement they are to send a strong body of cavalry to make a raid between this [illegible] Burnside's army and the Potomac at Washington and attack in detail all the small Union forces they can find at Leesburg and elsewhere, in the meanwhile they will send [illegible] infantry and artillery to [illegible] in check, or engage him to prevent him interfering with this programme.

Nashville, Nov 14.—General Crittenden's corps under Gen Mathew Woods entered Lebanon, Tenn, on the 10th, driving Morgan's cavalry and dispersing [illegible] of [illegible] boots and shoes and a number of mules and prisoners. Next morning, Morgan made a dash on Wood's camp, eight miles from Lebanon and captured 30 men.

On the morning of the 9th Parker's [illegible] encountered 800 rebel cavalry at Gallatin, Tenn, capturing two men and one piece of artillery.

Morgan's men are reported to have joined Breckinridge at Murfreesboro. It is supposed that they left with him for Chattanooga, to which place a large rebel force was [illegible]. It is reported on good authority that an immense quantity of rebel arms and supplies have been collected opposite Chattanooga with all the means of transportation across the river. The latest reports place Bragg's force [illegible] at 20,000. Gen [illegible] is reported at Tallaboma.

New York, Nov 15.—The Herald's correspondent at Harper's Ferry reports that Stonewall Jackson has removed his force from the vicinity of Front Royal and is now encamped at Newton, seven miles from the Winchester and Romney turnpike. His force is estimated at 25,000 to 40,000 men and forty pieces of artillery.

A special dispatch to the Tribune says it is reported that the rebels have occupied Thornton and Chester Gaps, in Burnside's rear, in force.

Washington, Nov 15.—Lieutenant Rogers of the rebel General A P Hill's staff, was captured yesterday near Leesburg. He says that Jackson will be in Cumberland within thirty four hours. Similar rumors of Jackson's movements are received from Harper's Ferry.

Cairo, Nov 15th.—All partisan rangers who have been pillaging the country around Memphis have been disbanded by the rebel General Pemberton, and attached to his regiments.

The people of Mississippi are running their negroes into the interior, and leaving only such property as they cannot carry away. The rebels are fortifying Jackson, Mississippi. It is believed their entire army will fall back to that point before giving battle.—The Federals occupied Hernando on Monday.

New York, Nov 15th.—The Herald prints a memorial, generally signed by merchants, financiers and others, recommending a return by the Government to specie payment on all bills from $20 upward, and to issue $20, $50, $100, $500, $1 000 and $5,000 bills having twenty years to run and bearing 4½ per cent interest.

Fortress Monroe, Nov 15th.—The Savannah Republican of November 5th says it has generally been resolved, both by the army and the citizens to defend that city to the last and yield possession to the invaders only when its walls have been battered down and no one is left to dispute their entrance.

Governor Brown has issued a call for negroes to complete the fortifications around Savannah. If they are not furnished promptly they will be impressed.

Gen. Mercer, commanding the district of Savannah, issued an address to planters, in reply to a request that he would return the negroes now at work on the fortifications refusing to do so until others were furnished.

In Town.—We notice Hon E P Oliphant, Associate Justice, and J G McGilvra, U S Prosecuting Attorney for Washington Territory, are now in this city, en route for Olympia.

CITY.

The MORNING OREGONIAN has a larger SUBSCRIPTION LIST than any other Daily published in this City.

A FIGHT.—A regular set to occurred up town yesterday afternoon, between a couple of belligerent individuals who had been imbibing too freely of old "tangle-leg" by way of Sunday pastime. Nothing serious resulted from the disgraceful occurrence, further than a proof of the fact that notwithstanding the existence of statute law prohibiting riotous conduct, as also the sale of intoxicating liquors on the Sabbath day, it was violated and nobody around to arrest the guilty parties.

ANOTHER.—Since writing the above we have learned of another fight which occurred on Taylor street, near the M. E. Church, yesterday evening. Several parties were concerned in this row, and some two or three received black eyes and bloody noses. This time it accidentally so happened that a peace officer got wind of the affair and arrived upon the ground in time to arrest two or three of the belligerents. What was done with them we did not learn. From the above two items it would seem that our city morals are fast depreciating rather than increasing, as many of our good citizens had hoped. We noticed that every rum-mill in the city was in full blast yesterday, whether this was owing to the fine pleasant weather, or the adjournment of the grand jury recently in session, we are not prepared to say, but we will say, that unless something is done soon by our respectable and peaceable citizens to preserve the peace and dignity of the city, we may expect to see all law and order disgraced and trampled under foot, and drunken madness and debauchery run riot through our streets.

ARRIVAL OF THE Pacific.—The steamship Pacific, A. M. Burns, Commander, arrived at Couche's Wharf last night at fifteen minutes past seven o'clock, from San Francisco, via Victoria. We are indebted to Wells, Fargo & Co. for files of late California papers, and to Purser J. H. Poole for the following memoranda and passenger list:

TYPOGRAPHICAL UNION.—A meeting of journeymen printers of this city was held last Saturday evening, for the purpose of forming a more perfect organization as an association, by virtue of Charter recently obtained from the United States Typographical Union. A Constitution, By Laws, and Rules of Order, were adopted, and the following named gentlemen elected and installed as officers of the Union:—Urban E. Hicks, President; Ira Mayfield, Secretary, and E. M. Geiger, Treasurer. The next regular meeting will take place on the first Saturday in December.

DR FLATTERY, of San Francisco, arrived on the Pacific, and put up at the What Cheer House with his family, where he is ready to receive professional calls.

AN INCIDENT OF THE BATTLE OF CORINTH.—Correspondence from Corinth, Miss., of date 15th October, says:

On the 4th instant, while the battle was raging fiercest on the east side of the town, the rebels made a desperate charge upon Fort Williams; at one time they pierced our line, but soon they were gallantly driven back at the point of the bayonet by the 11th Missouri and 27th Ohio. It was during the charge that a rebel color-bearer with a single corporal of his color guard, was rapidly advancing with his colors for the evident purpose of planting them on the fort. This was perceived by James Cheek, a member of Company G, 27th Ohio, who, bringing his rifle to his shoulder, took deliberate aim and fired, bringing down the color-corporal dead. Upon perceiving this, the sergeant lowered the flag-staff to the ground, and, drawing a pistol from his belt, took aim at Cheek and fired, without, however, hitting him. Orrin Gould, of Company G was also an interested spectator of this scene, and as soon as he perceived the sergeant lower his flag he sprang forward and seized the same, retreating with it behind the ranks of his company. At this moment Gould was shot through the chest with a musket ball; however, holding the flag over his head with his left hand, while with his right he endeavored to staunch the flow of blood from his wound, he sprang upon a log near by and continued waving it over his head. Col. Maybury of the 19th Arkansas (since a prisoner) seeing their colors in the hands of one of our men, drew his sword and springing to the front of the rebel column, shouted, "Boys, don't give up your flag this way. Stick to your colors." Lieut. Cohen of Company B, 27th Ohio, standing near by, rallying his men, overheard this, and jumping in front of the indomitable colonel, he placed his revolver at his head, at the same time challenging him with, "You infernal rebel, surrender! Give me your sword!" The colonel, taken quite aback, turned around, and without uttering a word in reply, handed up his sword to Lieut. Cohen, who still has this rebel weapon as a trophy of the hard fought battle of Corinth. After the rebels commenced falling back, Major Spaulding of the 27th, noticing Gould, pale and bleeding, standing on the log waving the rebel flag, wished him to go to the rear, but Gould was not satisfied, and not until he saw the last of the retreating rebels enter the timber beyond would he consent to relinquish the flag and go to the hospital.

☞ The attention of the community is respectfully solicited to the New Goods arrived by the last steamer—embracing a full line of Ladies' Silk Mantillas, French Bonnets, Florals, new style Hats, Challis, Poplins, and Debeges, together with a full assortment of Gents New Style this Cassimere suits, Fancy Socks, Broadway styles of Business Suits, and the very latest fashion of Parisian and New York Fancy Summer Panama Braid and Light C—Freere Hats. All the articles are now ready for sale, and can be seen at Harkers' New Building on First street, in the rear of Commercial Wharf.

FIELD'S STEAMED OYSTERS!

MR. A. FIELD, whose Oysters have long enjoyed the highest reputation in this market, has recently invented an entirely new process of packing, which possesses every advantage over the one hitherto employed. It so preserves the natural flavor, freshness and shape of the Oyster that they may be either Stewed, Fried, Scolloped or Fancy-Roasted—in fact cooked in any manner adapted to those just taken from the shell. They will not be broken into pieces by land travel, however lengthy, and will retain their sweetness, after the can is cut, longer than secured by any other method.

Shipments arrived and for sale by all the Grocery Jobbers in San Francisco.

Office and Labratory, no. 10, Alder street, Four Doors from Front, Portland, Ogn.

HAVING secured the services of Dr. C. H. MACK, formerly of New York city, and late of St. Louis, who is an experienced and skillful Dentist, I am now prepared to manufacture and insert Artificial Teeth by the following methods, namely: GOLD, SILVER, RUBBER, AMBER, PORCELAIN BASE, GUM ENAMEL, RUBBER ATTACHMENT, CHEOPLASTIC, CONTINUOUS GUM, MICA and ENAMELED PLATE WORK. Some kinds of this work is recommended above all others, and needs but an inspection to prove its superiority for cleanliness, durability and life-like appearance to any artificial tooth in use.

Filling and cleaning teeth, and all operations in Dental Surgery, either mechanical, operative or surgical, performed in the most thorough and highly finished manner. None but the most permanent and finished operations performed, and no inducements to patients by low priced or roughly finished operations. I use no cement in filling teeth, and seek in price to make no competition with cheap Dentists, and desire the patronage of such persons only as wish their operations performed in the most perfect and skillful manner.

Operations that fail to give satisfaction need not be taken or paid for. Office hours from 9 A. M. to 4 P. M. Indigent persons who are unable to pay full professional charges will call before and after office hours.

LADD, WEBSTER & CO.'S
FAMILY
SEWING MACHINES
ARE UNEQUALED BY ANY FOR BEAUTY AND SIMPLICITY OF CONSTRUCTION
—AND—
Efficiency in Working.

A GOOD SEWING MACHINE should be well made, simple in its construction, and easily kept in order; should make a firm lock-stitch, alike on both sides of the material, and should sew any and all materials that can be sewed.

It should be able to use cotton, thread, or silk directly from the spool; and to sew from coarse to fine, and from thick to thin, with rapidity, and without changing the tension. It should also be able to make the tension greater or less, on both the under and upper threads, and with uniformity; and should have a straight needle; curved ones being liable to break.

The needle should have perpendicular motion—this is absolutely necessary for heavy work.

It should be able to bind with a binder, hem with a hemmer, fell, stitch, fell, run and gather; and should be always ready to work.

It should be capable of using the same size thread on both sides of the work, and of using different colored thread on each, above or below, to correspond with any two colors of cloth to be united.

It should be able to make a long or short stitch, and to fasten off the seam, and commence sewing tightly at the first stitch, and to run easily, and make but little noise.

It should have a wheel-feed; no others are in constant contact with the work.

It should not be liable to get out of order; neither should it require a screw-driver or wrench to set the needle.

It should not be liable to oil the operator's dress.

It should not form a ridge on the under side, or ravel.

The undersigned are General Agents for the general supervision of these unrivalled machines for Pacific States and Western Coast of Mexico.

What Makes a Man.

A man never knows what he is [illegible] of until he has tried his powers [illegible] seems to be no bound to hu [illegible] city Insight energy and will produce aston sh ing results How often modest [illegible] driven by circumstances to undertake son [illegible] form id [illegible] work has felt its own untried and hitherto un con [illegible] powers rising up to grapple and [illegible] ster and afterwards stood amazed at its own unexpected success

Those circumstances, those people enemies and friends that provoke us to any noble undertaking are our greatest benefactors Opposition and persecution do more for a man than any seemingly good fortune The sneers of critics develop the latent fire of the young poet The anathemas of the angry church inflame the zeal of the refor er Tyranny threats fagots, torture raise up heroes and martyrs who might otherwise have slept away slothful and thoughtless lives never dreaming what splendid acts and words lay buried in their bosoms And who knows but what the wrongs of society are permitted, because of the fine gold which is beaten out of the crude ore of humanity

Here is a truth worth consi [illegible] ng Are you in poverty? Have you su [illegible] ed wrong? Do circumstances oppose you Are you beset by enemies? Now is your time!—Never lie there depressed and melancholy Spend no more time in idle whining Up, like a lion! Make no complaints at it difficulty fights you roar your defiance You are at school, this is your necessary discipline, poverty and pain are your masters—but use the powers God has given you, and you shall be master at last Fear of failure is the most fruitful cause of failure What seems failure at first is a discipline Accept the lesson, trust the grand result, up and up again, strike and strike again, and you shall always gain, whatever the fortune of to day or to morrow s battle

The Frog Trade—The Auburn (N Y) Advertiser says that the catching of frogs at Montezuma has become quite a considerable trade It adds "For three or four seasons past two men have made the impaling of frogs their business Every other day they ship from Auburn a barrel of frogs for the New York or Buffalo market They make very handsome wages The method of securing these basso profundos of the marshes is very similar to spearing fish The men paddle off through the marsh in the night with a dark lantern—They approach the haunt of the frog very quietly and when near enough throw their dart with a certainty acquired by practice, always hitting them back of the head, killing them instantly The hind quarters are then carefully skinned and cut off, packed in barrels, and sent to their destination—They generally secure two or three hundred in a night, and are paid $6 a hundred.

Clearing a Debtor s Prison.—The work of clearing the Queen s Bench Prison, London, of its inhabitants is now verging to a close Strange to say, it has been a very difficult task Many of the prisoners sternly refused to be made bankrupts though, by giving their consent, they could have immediately obtained their release The most curious case was that of Wm Miller, who had been in prison since July, 1814—forty eight years! He has no desire to go out, and would sign nothing which would have the effect of making him a free man When at last he was absolutely forced to acquiesce, he begged to be allowed to remain in the prison a few days longer, and when his time was up he still lingered fondly within the gates to bid the officials farewell, and to shake hands over and over again. Until he passed the outer gates of the Queen's Bench Prison, a few weeks since, Wm Miller, who was born nearly eighty years ago, never saw a street gas lamp, nor an omnibus, much less a steam ship or a railway —Railway Exchange

Cure for Fever and Ague.—Although, like toothache, fever and ague is a disorder that many make fun over, no one who has had the "shakes" and the "chills" is careless concerning the remedy for them A gentleman who has been out among the troops on the upper Potomac, says that there is a remedy always easily found, which is much more reliable than quinine or cholagogue, and that remedy is a decoction of the common white plantain, formed by steeping the leaves in whiskey taken a dozen mornings in succession. The remedy is at every farm-house door and as simple as that prescribed to Naaman by the prophet, to whom he was referred by the "little maid"—Exchange

The Way to Treat Injuries.—If a bee stings you, will you go to the hive and destroy it? Would not a thousand come upon you? If you receive a trifling injury, do not go about the streets proclaiming it and be anxious to avenge it Let it drop It is wisdom to say little respecting the injuries you may have received,

A doctor and a military officer both became enamored of the same young lady A friend asked which of the two suitors she intended to favor She replied that it is difficult to determine, as both are such killing creatures '

Experiments [illegible] Flax [illegible] Canadian gentleman [illegible] the flax culture, writes from [illegible] ly 17 as follows relative to experiments in rotting flax I wished particularly to certain the difference in value between dew rotted flax and that steeped in [illegible] manner in cold water—and [illegible] the result of [illegible] experiment on this subject, tried [illegible] from one field was separated into three portions One of these was dew rotted according to the custom of the country where it was grown (though owing to the [illegible] ity not good enough for [illegible]) the second was rotted in standing water in pits, according to the custom in the North of Ireland, and in many parts of Belgium and the third in running water [illegible] in the river Lys at Courtrai [illegible] was the best flax when retted but the second was actually double the value of the dew rotted flax

"This circumstance should be known by our farmers, as the same crop may be made to yield a two fold value according to the system of rotting practiced, and in point of fact, the steeping system—occupying only 6 or 8 days—is cheaper than dew rotting, which occupies six weeks or two months, and must therefore require a [illegible] amount of supervision
